

If music be the food of love, play on

Our wedding is near Valentine's Day and wanted to create a contemporary love-song playlist for during the wedding breakfast.

What tracks do you recommend?

Chanelle says: The ambience of music at your wedding breakfast can give your guests an insight into your journey of love. Add songs that warm the heart with words that reflect the day: Marry Me by Train, Say You Won't Let Go by James Arthur, I Will Always Love You by Whitney Houston, Wings by Birdy and Yours by Ella Henderson, will definitely set the romantic mood.

As love has many colours, be sure to lift the tempo during dessert to get your guests in the mood to dance at the reception with music like Best Day of My Life by American Authors and Love Never Felt So Good by Michael Jackson.

Meet the expert:
Chanelle Aristide
Singer and DJ | chanellaristide.co.uk

H FEBRUARY WEDDINGS TO TOPIC

Our experts answer your Valentine's Day-inspired questions

ARRIVE IN STYLE

We're tying the knot in February and are having a truly fairytale celebration at Farnham Castle. What type of transport do you suggest for the epitome of romance?

Tony says: Come rain or shine, arrive in the tranquil grounds of Farnham Castle with elegance. The epitome of romance is found in this chauffeur-driven vintage Rolls Royce Phantom 1 Sedan de Ville, featuring a magnificent mother of pearl dashboard, beige leather interior, walnut trim and privacy glass. Relax and enjoy this charming way to start your journey into married life.

Meet the expert:
Anthony Allen
Transport hire specialists | ucchire.com

